Where to Send Your Thank-You Note

If you are a recipient of a scholarship, make sure to send a thank you note to the scholarship committee and/or donors. In the table above, there is information on where to send your thank you's. Make sure to include the name of the scholarship in your thank you, how the money will contribute towards your education and/or it's impact on you. Here is an example:

(Make sure to include the specific scholarship in the title)

To the Donor(s) of the Lloyd Melvie Aviation Scholarship:

(State your appreciation and note the dollar amount)

Thank you so much for awarding me $2,000. I am very appreciative of this generous gift.

(Tell a little bit about yourself and your future plans)

I am excited to begin the aviation program in the fall at the University of North Dakota. Since I was little, I have dreamed of becoming a pilot and seeing the world. After graduating from UND, I hope to work for one of the major airlines on international flights.

(Close by thanking the donor(s) again and express how the donor(s) investment will be well used)

Thanks to you, I am one step closer to achieving my goals. With the high cost of college, you have lightened my financial burden. This will allow me the opportunity to focus more on my studies.

Thank you again. Your thoughtfulness means so much to me.
